Second William Pierce CD

Following the excellent success of our first William Pierce CD, the National Alliance is now offering the second CD in the series, featuring twenty more of

Dr. Pierce's best speeches, entitled William Pierce, The Power of Truth, Vol. 2. Like Volume 1, about which many members and supporters wrote to us to praise its quality, this is a fully professional presentation that will favorably impress everyone who receives it.

The jacket of the National Alliance's second mp3-CD in a series, William Pierce: the Power of Truth, Volume 2, is shown here. The full-color original shows the green and verdant landscape of the mountains that Dr. Pierce loved as its background. The first CD in this series was a notable success and its first printing is almost sold out.

The CD contains the following selection of inspirational speeches by Dr. Pierce:

1. Patriot's Choice
2. The Holocaust Shakedown
3. Hope for the Future
4. How to Bring Down the House
5. Illusion and Leverage
6. MTV and Hate
7. Those Who Care
8. Thoughts on Free Trade
9. Thoughts on Discrimination
10. What is Moral
11. Why Society is Nuts
12. Lies and the History Channel
13. Thoughts on the Holocaust
14. The Club
15. Aids and the Cult of Equality
16. The Sinking of the Wilhelm Gustloff
17. Skating on Thin Ice
18. Racial Fitness and Survival
19. The Theft of Our Freedom
20. Odysseus' Way

This is a modern mp3-CD, playable in most CD players and all computers, DVD players, and Blu-Ray players made in the last few years — and, as such, it has about ten times the playing time of an ordinary CD.

As we said in November, when we sold these speeches and programs on individual cassette tapes (and this was mainly back in the 1990s, when a dollar was worth more than a dime), they would have cost you a total of $260.

Today's price is less than a sixteenth of that.

Pre-orders are now being taken: Simply send $16 for each CD, or buy five CDs for $50 postpaid, to National Alliance, Box 172, Laurel Bloomery TN 37680 USA, making your checks payable to National Vanguard Books. Or you may order online with your credit or debit card at:

Listeners and Readership Increasing

Readership at our flagship news site, nationalvanguard.org, has increased steadily since we last updated BULLETIN readers.

From January 1 to January 26, an average of more than 12,000 people per day accessed our site, a nearly five-fold increase since our last report. Some of those visitors, more than five per cent., or about 17,000 total over this partial-month period, also downloaded an American Dissident Voices radio broadcast. There were about 12,000 total listening sessions to our new National Alliance Radio Network stream during this same period, representing more than 50 countries.

Special thanks goes out to our members and supporters who write, edit, post, and provide all the logistical efforts behind the scenes to keep our National Alliance media growing in both quality and quantity — including Vanessa Neubauer, John Calhoun, Bradford Hanson, Michael R., Michael S., Alexander Noble, Malcolm S., and others — and also to those who have made monetary donations to make all this possible. We couldn't do it without you!

SPLC Extortionists

Be aware that as this issue of the monthly BULLETIN goes to press the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) will have published yet another attack on our organization. This "story" and the behavior of the SPLC agents and employees behind it, including big-boned Heidi Beirich (pictured) — who, if not a lesbian Jew, ought to be one — meets the textbook definition of extortion: to obtain something from someone by the use of force or threats.

Beirich has lately been harassing a young female Alliance member, threatening to "expose" her Alliance connection, ruin her career opportunities, and turn family against her if she does not quit our organization and tell the SPLC all she knows about us.

Beirich has even been calling this young lady's parents and grandparents, terrorizing them with alarming false information including "your granddaughter is involved in a grand larceny" and may be imprisoned (a false claim based on the statements of crazy, larcenous SPLC informant Garland Corse). "The Alliance is what we intend to stop," says Beirich. "We can leave you out of it, completely," she wrote, if only our member will betray the Alliance and tell her all she knows about its leaders and members. "Convince me you are out. We will not publish any mention of you again and we will remove all references to you, including all photographs, from our blog."

Thank goodness this member is

strong and doesn't care if she is "exposed" by the hostile queers, Jews, and other non-Whites at the so-called Law Center. I wish all Alliance members were as strong.

Any Alliance member who is a victim of extortion like this at the hands of the SPLC — or any other anti-White or anti-Alliance group — should report it to Chairman Williams immediately via email at:

Correspondence

Mr. Chairman: I received the latest National Alliance BULLETIN. It always warms my heart to hear of good news concerning the new Alliance. Unfortunately, I had heard of the latest round of attacks against you and immediately smelled a rat. Having perused the article on the SPLC Web site, I could not help but notice that the descriptions of the woman in question were suspiciously positive in contrast to their typical smears of people associated with the Alliance.

I have confidence in you as our Chairman and am thankful for the clarification in the BULLETIN as to what is really going on.

I am ready to do some research for the new edition of our Who Rules America? report. If you could, email me a PDF or Word document containing the old version for me to have a starting place. Sincerely, — J.R., NC

Hello Will and Lana: I'm sad to learn about all these attacks on our organization. It's certainly not the kind of headache I'd wish on anyone — and certainly not you folks. For my part, I'm with you and the NA.

Your and Kevin's accomplishments in the short amount of time spent these past 16 months have made a positive impression on me and I find it disturbing that all these SPLC, NARRG and other Internet postings, and whatnot have been going on. It all distracts everyone from the important tasks we've banded together to face.

To date, I have not been in contact with anyone else and no one besides you has attempted to contact me. To put it bluntly, should such communications from others come my way to draw me into some sort of distraction from Our Purpose, I'd make it known that I stand with those who actually get things done instead of engaging in trouble-making and drama.

It would not surprise me if this situation is very upsetting to the both of you, and hope some calm can be found in your lives while this business plays itself out. You deserve it. My best regards, — J.M., Iowa

Dear Chairman Williams: The only true inspiration I've had from the White racial nationalist movement has been listening to more than 300 of Dr. Pierce's ADV radio shows that I've downloaded — that is, until by accident I tuned into the streaming radio on <http://natall.com/radio-network/> and heard Mr. Kevin Alfred Strom's voice. He is quite simply brilliant!

Dr. Pierce and Mr. Strom have given me confidence that 2016 will be the year to be open and honest regarding my racial beliefs — no more pseudonyms, no more fear of being a proud and concerned White man who will be chopped down by the intolerant haters on the left/liberal side. With that I am starting a new life. — M.G., U.K.

Dear National Alliance: I currently live in Sweden and really like the ideology of the National Alliance. I am generally unwilling to do compromises and only accept the best. The program I read at natall.com is the best I have read ever; instead of getting lost in details the basic goals were explained very well and I am in agreement with them... In Sweden there is not much free speech.

If I would talk like William Pierce in Sweden I would soon end up in jail... I have been a member of three organisations in Sweden during three years (I always ended up leaving). Now, finally, I have found something worth supporting. — A.G., Sweden, via WhiteBiocentrism.com forum

Chairman Williams responds: Face-to-face recruiting by our members is still the main pillar of National Alliance growth. But long-suffering Whites are also discovering our Alliance through our various Internet outreach sites. People are drawn to successful truth tellers and a growing number of critical thinkers see the Alliance as having the potential to succeed like no other existing group can. American free speech: Use it or lose it!

There is an upside to the relentless attacks on the National Alliance from our detractors; especially those from the deep-pocketed, increasingly hated anti-White SPLC. More and more perceptive Whites recognize that we would not be attacked so ruthlessly by this enemy if the cold hard truths we tell were not perceived to be a massive threat to the Jewish power structure and its assault on our race. Keep spreading our wholesome message, friends — and our kinsmen will find us.

Chairman Williams: Please have your wife change my donation to $100 a month from $20. If she needs me to authorize it through Stripe I can. Also, please change my status to member, not supporter. I had the membership number of A-XXXX (if I could keep that number, I would like to) when I first joined and you were the Membership Coordinator and Kevin Strom was the ADV voice and media man. I joined then with no hesitation — and it's the same now.

I'm glad to see the Who Rules America? update project, the CD, and the glossy National Alliance booklet. — D.P., Arizona

The Enemy Inside the Gates

An organization can survive its fools, and even the ambitious. But it cannot long survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and carries his banner openly. But the traitor moves amongst those within the gates freely... The traitor appears not a traitor; he speaks in accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their arguments, he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of an organization, he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine its pillars, he infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to be feared.

Those words, in which I've substituted "organization" for "nation," are a paraphrase of a speech by the Roman orator Cicero, who was warning Roman citizens about traitors to their nation two millennia ago. His words apply just as surely to our organization, the National Alliance. We all can recognize an enemy, like the Southern Poverty Law Center, that "carries its banner openly." But how do we identify the traitor that moves within our gate freely when that traitor "appears not a traitor" and was not always a traitor?

I never would have thought that

CICERO

Bob Demarais, who lives near our West Virginia campus and who worked for us many years ago, could become a traitor to the National Alliance. But he has. For how long I don't know; perhaps since 2004 when the lout Shaun Walker, who never should have been allowed within a thousand miles of the Chairman's office, sued Bob in an attempt to steal his house and drive him off his land. Or perhaps it's mainly because of his harboring of Garland Corse in his home in recent months.

I first met lifelong bachelor "Dr. Bob" in 1996 when he was invited to a National Alliance Leadership Conference at our West Virginia National Office. Soon after he came on staff as the Alliance's Business Manager and was even named to the Board of Directors by Dr. Pierce shortly before he died in 2002. Demarais decided after joining the staff that he would build a house on the mountain and live out his life there. He was deeded a small 1/4-acre lot in a corner of the property a couple of hundred yards from the headquarters building, just 50 or so feet from the large red barn that had been built by staffer Fred Streed and Alliance volunteers in the early 1990s. Bob's lot was landlocked, so there was a necessity for Dr. Pierce to grant him a right of way through the National Alliance's gate and across National Alliance property to reach his house.

Bob became disenchanted with the direction the Alliance was going under Dr. Pierce's successor, Erich Gliebe, and resigned from the board and from the organization in 2003. He continued to work for the cause however, publishing his own magazine until Gliebe's short-term replacement, Walker, stupidly sued him. Dr. Pierce would never have approved of going to the courts and wasting tens of thousands of dollars of precious funds to resolve internal disputes among our own people. I and others helped Bob defend against that destructive legal action.

I always got along well with Dr. Bob until recently. He helped me in 2014 when I purchased Dr. Pierce's library early that year, and then when I was named Chairman by the Board of Directors that October he would make deposits for me to our West Virginia bank accounts and collected mail from our Hillsboro post office boxes and forwarded it to me in between my numerous trips from our Tennessee offices.

Neighbor Bob was most helpful to me when there no staffers left on the property, and thereafter when there was only one last Winter. He did not care for the NARRG litigants (National Alliance Reform and Restoration Group) and their destructive $2 million lawsuit. I felt assured that he was happy that I had stepped up to the challenge of rebuilding the Alliance after more than a decade of decline under the governance of Erich Gliebe and Shaun Walker. In fact Bob put up an unsolicited comment at the big Stormfront.com discussion board in late 2014, writing:

NARRG consists of the final group of Gliebe supporters. After nearly everyone else left, this group of six finally saw the light. It took them ten years. I still have hope that NARRG will drop the lawsuit. There is no purpose now. Gliebe is out. NARRG was the knight that maneuvered Gliebe toward a corner, but Will Williams was the castle that put Gliebe in checkmate. Gliebe is not an officer of any of the entities nor is he on either of the boards. He has no access to the property, the bank accounts, or anything else. Gliebe is out. He is physically locked out... I live adjacent to the NA headquarters and have witnessed the effects of the last 25 months of fighting between Gliebe and NAARG... it isn't pretty. Good luck Will. I trust that the six members of NARRG will carefully list and weigh the costs and benefits of continuing the lawsuit.

Those Alliance members and supporters that have been receiving this BULLETIN for the past year know that the NARRG co-plaintiffs, though outside the Alliance's gate, dug in their heels and are intent on destroying our organization using the courts. These former members have become our enemies no less than the SPLC and their ilk. In fact, the NARRG grouplet has joined with the SPLC in attacking us by republishing SPLC smears of me on their blog as "proof" I'm a "thieving," "lying," "psychotic menace to society," or whatever.

I reported in last month's BULLETIN how I had fired former employees Garland Corse (aka de Courcy) and Michael Olanich, her young lover. Ms. Course appeared on the scene in mid-April under mysterious circumstances, desperate for a place to stay, saying she was near suicide because she was in an "abusive relationship," requiring shelter and sanctuary because she was being evicted from her house in Virginia. I had met her in the early 1990s when we were both Alliance members but had had no contact with her for 20 years. I rescued the poor damsel in distress, providing the sanctuary she sought. She arrived in West Virginia with three unexpected box-truck loads of personal junk that I allowed her to store in our barn — which is just 50 feet or so from Bob Demarais' house. From her first days in West Virginia, Bob allowed her to stay in his basement apartment that has a kitchen and bath, and she cooked for him, did laundry and general housekeeping, and lived there rent-free. They put in a garden together and the arrangement was good for everyone, or so it seemed.

There's truth to the saying "no good deed goes unpunished." She is still there, living with Bob, as is her young lover, even though they were both fired — him in December, her in October. Thus they have "tenant's rights," including use of their landlord's right of way through our gate and across our property.

It has been a hostile situation ever since Ms. Course, like NARRG, began plotting a coup against me, using the courts and law enforcement and abusing the legal process: filing false police reports, enjoying automatically-granted temporary restraining orders by making false claims that I "attacked" her, filing petitions for court-ordered "protection" from me under which I must stay at least 1,000 feet from her "residence" (which is Bob's house, just 50 feet from Alliance facilities) — and more.

This is the "lawfare" I began describing in last month's BULLETIN. Those of you who have a DVD players or access to online films should try to get hold of the 1990 thriller Pacific Heights, in which the actor Michael Keaton plays the antagonist who uses his position as a tenant to terrorize his landlords. This has been described as the first "tenant horror" film, and viewers will have a good idea of exactly how my loony real-life antagonist has been operating with the help of her treasonous co-conspirators.

When I became Alliance Chairman, Mr. Demarais was expecting that I might honor a sweetheart deal he had made with the desperate Gliebe to purchase nearly six acres of the most prime National Alliance property, adjacent to his own land, for $52,000. That land has the large barn on it as well as the even larger National Vanguard Books warehouse. I quickly realized that the replacement cost for those two buildings alone would be well over $100,000 — so I soon told Bob that I would not be selling him the land and buildings. He had hoped also to purchase the Streed's nearby four-acre lot and cabin which would have given him approximately ten acres total. I purchased the Streed property (that also had been granted a right of way across Alliance land) in September to preserve the integrity of the entire Cosmotheist Community Church and National Alliance properties. No outsider, after my purchase, would have a right of way through our Alliance gate other than Demarais to his house. I'm told Bob was angered to no end that I had stepped on his grand plans. Had I not done so, however, those ten acres could have been developed by Demarais and access through our gate could have been extended to any number of non-Alliance people who had no business coming onto our private property.

It is now my intention to use the courts to revoke Demarais' right of way for two reasons: 1) He is no longer landlocked, having purchased a couple of acres of land behind his house that give him another deeded right of way into his property; therefore the necessity to go through our gate has been removed; and 2) the extreme hostility of our once friendly neighbor and of his litigious tenant(s). Furthermore, I will erect a fence on our common property line, because there is much truth in poet Robert Frost's saying, "Good fences make good neighbors." Many folks agree with that proverb, as you'll see below.

Just two weeks after my becoming Chairman, before I'd had a chance to examine closely the sweetheart deal between Demarais and Gliebe, I received a long, rather desperate email from Bob, telling me how he wanted to close on the tracts of land immediately. That email begins:

One of my major goals is to insulate and isolate myself from the NA, NVB, and CCC. Good fences make good neighbors.

As badly as I needed funds at that time to pay off back taxes and the considerable debts inherited from my predecessor, not to mention what it was going to cost to renovate and maintain all of the buildings that were then dark, without plumbing, and in shambles, I could not expect to bring The Land back to life if I sold off what is arguably its most prime property. There was no income from National Vanguard

Books at the time and pledges from the few remaining Alliance members were negligible, so I went about paying for the rebuilding efforts with my own

"God save me from my friends; I can take care of my enemies myself."

Maréchal Villars

savings and with contributions from a few generous stalwarts that believed we could succeed despite seemingly insurmountable odds against success.

I reported last month that the Pocahontas County Magistrate had denied Corse's request for "protection" from me at the 21 December hearing. Corse didn't like the adverse decision and appealed it to the West Virginia District Court. On January 19 that court dismissed her petition because she failed to show up for the hearing (perhaps because she got wind that my attorney was going to request that the judge order a psychiatric evaluation of the plaintiff).

Three more hearings were scheduled for January 26. but were postponed until February 3 due to the extremely inclement weather. I will report the outcome of those hearings in the February BULLETIN. And, as I also reported last month, the lawsuit with the NARRGs will come to a head in March and, hopefully, we can report a positive outcome for our organization in that case in the March BULLETIN. We have several exceptional, trusted members who have volunteered to move to the mountain that month. In the meantime I am interviewing and meeting with them to find the best people for the jobs there once the snow melts and our legal issues are behind us. W. W. W.
